DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and substituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Every human endeavor whatsoever that reaches the general public must submit to the criticism of the ignorant and the incompetent. There are none so rash and so ready with their judgments as the empty-headed. Having nothing whatever on hand with which to compare a product or an experience, the verdict degenerates into the simple question of whether the empty head chances to be accompanied or not by a comfortable digestion; for many men, as the great humanist said centuries since, are no better than sacks through which nourishment passes. The Jamestown Exposition has been especially exposed to this type of humanity; namely, the nourishment sack. A gentleman recently heard the whole exposition and all that is in it roundly abused, together with the whole South, its origin, history, and progress, by two dry-goods drummers in the train, and when, after patient questioning and careful probing, he came to the foundation of their distrust and dislike, it proved to be an absence of corned-beef hash for breakfast at their hostelry.

This deficiency had so outraged and upset their equilibrium that the whole locality was seen through their wrath and indignation. We all know the lady who denounces the whole American civilization because gloves are cheaper and better in France, but it sometimes seems as if we were less ready to detect the reporter of the dry-goods drummer type of mind.

The Jamestown Exposition has had to submit to a sad amount of the callow reporters' judgments. The truth is that a judgment upon it requires some mental background. It is smaller and rarer than other expositions have been. Put forth by an established and a provincial people—provincial in the sense in which Greece itself was provincial, as having faith in and caring for its own indigenous types and customs—making almost no attempt at glare and cheap and vulgar attractions for the dry-goods drummers and the callow reporters, it can only be judged by a student of history, a patriot, an artist.

No more beautiful site has ever been chosen for an exposition. Stretched along the broad expanse of Hampton Roads, with the smooth, soft, glassy southern waters lazily lapping its miles of frontage, with the groves of tropical-looking pines, like majestic feather dusters standing on end, with the soft brown carpet beneath of dead pine needles called "shadders" (from shattered) by the negroes, in an atmosphere almost as dream-laden as that of southern England lies the white and pink colonial city among its riot of southern flowers and its rare southern trees. On either side of the Auditorium Building, low, white and dome-crowned, are two enormous Paulonia trees of incalculable age, with their huge branches of purple blossoms, lifting their heads upward like clusters of purple grapes standing on end, and, later in the season, still raising their masses of brown cups, tan and chestnut, large and small, among the great green leaves. Hedges and bushes everywhere of laurel and bay, the bay that when it is chafed gives forth a sweet and aromatic odor, run along the paths; a fence six to seven feet high smothered in masses of coral honeysuckle, rambler-roses, and the great crimson bell of the trumpet-vine, stretches round the dull, soft greens of the southern landscape.

Little winding paths run through heavy thickets of crepe-myrtle, live-oak, and bay trees, where the indigo-bunting birds play and the mocking-birds sing. Probably nowhere else, except in Italy and Greece, can one see such splendor of surprise and sunset over the soft lines of flat land and smooth sea, such opal tints of changing gold and crimson and bright green, such masses of winged clouds hovering over the great daily drama of the earth's Lord and giver of life. But is this the sort of magnificence that will console the lover of corned-beef hash? Never. He will be as blind as a mole or an oyster. Nor is he likely to be impressed as he walks through the low Colonial buildings and sees the great products of educational endeavor, the exhibits of the schools all over the country, of the blind and deaf and dumb institutions, of the life-preserving devices, of the agricultural improvements, of the development of farming implements, and of machinery, to think of what so marvellous a national progress, since a few stalwart gentlemen adventurers touched here upon the virgin forest, may signify. Nor will he be interested in the speech of the people, although there is hardly an idiom of the locality which is not familiar to the student of Elizabethan drama.

Here is crystallized the speech and many of the social customs of the courts of the Stuarts, a bit of the undestroyed past, so soon inevitably to vanish, and yet so precious, so worthy of thoughtful investigation while it lasts.

But alas! to the lover of corned-beef hash, corned-beef hash shall be the horizon and the limit forever and for aye. And to the callow smart youth of quick verdicts we can but utter Rossetti's ultimate curse upon the lost soul,

"Thou art thyself, thro' all eternity."

Is it not curse enough to love hash more than architecture, and bustle and haste better than the glowing beauty of the earth, and funny shows better than rare collections?

The whole truth is that the Jamestown Exposition is completely over the heads and beyond the comprehension of many of its culumniators. But to the student, to the experienced traveler, to any man of trained perceptions, it offers a wealth of material for thought and study and delight. [L. C. W. in Harper's Weekly.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 25, 1907.

CARDINAL GIBBONS, in an article entitled "Organized Labor," which will appear within a few days as a magazine article, declares himself as strongly opposed to strikes and boycotts as means of settling differences between the employers and the employed, and makes an urgent appeal for the pacific adjustment of industrial difficulties. With unusual candor, but in a kindly spirit, he makes several outspoken admonitions to organized labor. He expresses clearly in detail his views regarding capital and labor, and finally urges workingmen to strive constantly and zealously toward an uplifting of the moral and social standard of their organizations. Although his theme is "Organized Labor" and much of the article is addressed to the labor organizations, Cardinal Gibbons does not spare the trusts and corporations. He is unsparing in his denunciation of those monopolists who he says "exhibit a grasping avarice which has dried up every sentiment of sympathy and a sordid selfishness that is deaf to the cries of distress." While he approves the banding together of workingmen for their own protection, Cardinal Gibbons denounces those elements of organized labor which seek to stir up unnecessary discord. Regarding the evils of strikes, which subject he discusses at length, he says, in part:

Experience has shown that strikes are a drastic and at best a very questionable remedy for the redress of the laborer's grievances. They paralyze industry, they often foment fierce passions and lead to the destruction of property; and, above all, they result in inflicting grievous injury on the laborer himself by keeping him in enforced idleness, during which time his mind is clouded by discontent while brooding over his situation, and his family not infrequently suffers from want of the necessaries of life. The loss inflicted by strikes on the employers is not much more than half as great as that which is sustained by the employed, who can much less afford to bear it. It would be a vast stride in the interests of peace and of the laboring classes if the policy of arbitration, which is now gaining favor for the settlement of international quarrels, were also availed of for the adjustment of disputes between capital and labor. Many blessings would result from the adoption of this method, for while strikes, as the name implies, are aggressive and destructive, arbitration is conciliatory and constructive. The result in the former case is determined by the weight of the purse, in the latter by the weight of the argument.

Cardinal Gibbons believes that the American workingman is better paid and lives better than his brethren across the Atlantic. He praised briefly the employers who have at heart the welfare of those they employ. Continuing Cardinal Gibbons discusses the subject of boycotting, of which he says, in part:

I am persuaded that the system of boycotting, by which members of labor unions are instructed not to patronize certain obnoxious business houses, is not only disapproved by an impartial public sentiment, but that it does not commend itself to the more thoughtful and conservative portions of the guilds themselves. Every man is free indeed to select the establishment with which he wishes to deal, and in purchasing from one in preference to another he is not violating justice. But the case is altered when, by a mandate of the society, he is debarred from buying from a particular firm. Such a proposition assails the liberty of the purchaser and the rights of the seller, and is an unwarrantable invasion of the commercial privileges guaranteed by the government to business concerns. If such a social ostracism was generally in vogue, a process of retaliation would naturally follow, the current of mercantile intercourse would be checked, every centre of population would be divided into hostile camps, and the good feelings which ought to prevail in every community would be seriously impaired. 'Live and let live' is a wise maxim, dictated alike by the law of trade and by Christian charity.

Cardinal Gibbons warns labor unions against tolerating elements dangerous to their own well being. He points out that the unions "have need of leaders possessed of great firmness, tact and superior executive ability, who will honestly aim at consulting the welfare of the society they represent, without infringing on the rights of their employers. They should exercise unceasing vigilance in securing their body from the control of designing demagogues, who would make it subservient to their own selfish ends or convert it into a political engine. They should be careful to exclude from their ranks that turbulent element who boldly preache the gospel of anarchy, socialism and nihilism; those land pirates who are preying on the industry, commerce and trade of the country, whose mission is to pull down and not to build up, who, instead of upholding the hands of the government that protects them, are bent on its destruction, and instead of blessing the mother that opens her arms to welcome them, insult and defy her. If such revolutionists had their way despotism would supplant legitimate authority, license would reign without liberty, and gaunt poverty would stalk throughout the land." Continuing, he says:

The expulsion from membership in the unions of any men who have been guilty of outrages of one kind or another against the peace of the community or the rights of their fellow citizens would secure for the unions the respect and sympathy of the community, and would greatly further the best interests of organized labor.

A VIGOROUS arraignment of the republican tariff and the monopolies built up under it was delivered at Nashville last night by Gov. Folk, of Missouri, at a brilliant banquet given by the democrats of the city, in honor of Old Home Week. The principal issues of the coming campaign were analyzed by Mr. Folk who sharply opposed the absorption of the rights of the States by the central government and declared that municipal ownership of railroads would give the Chief Executive of the nation and the party in power a dangerous political weapon. Gov. Folk prefaced his address with the declaration that the prospect for the success of democratic ideas was never brighter than now. He defined democratic ideas by quoting the expression, "equal rights to all, special privileges to none," enunciated by Thos. Jefferson. This maxim, he continued, applied today with even greater force than when it was first announced by the father of democracy. A political revival is going on over the land on the subject, and the elimination of special privilege is the paramount issue before the people of the country. During his speech he said:

The elimination of unjust privileges conferred by law is a moral question. Any privilege is a graft, whether it be a privilege exercised contrary to law or one that the law itself may give. A tariff so arranged as to create monopoly and to give a few people the privilege of preying on the rest of the people is legalized graft. Considered from this standpoint, the tariff is a moral question. Indeed, every governmental question in a sense is a moral question, in that it is a question of right and wrong. But as an economic question merely a monopoly tariff is undefensible under the conditions that exist today.

Washington, Sept. 25.

Prosecution against thirty-five railroads was directed today by Attorney General Bonaparte, for alleged violations of the safety appliance law, upon evidence gathered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The attorney announces that the law will be rigidly enforced. Among the defendants is the Norfolk and Western Railroad,

Organized labor, as represented by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today formally opened its compaign against Secretary Taft as a presidential aspirant. In the official organ of the Federation Mr. Gompers prints an article headed: "Taft, the Injunction Standard-Bearer." Mr. Gompers' remarks are based on Mr. Taft's decision as a United States judge in Cincinnati, with reference to boycotts, and his recent discussion of labor questions in his western speeches.

Mr. T. F Ellis, of Washington, D. C., proprietor of the souvenir and view stand in the Mt. Vernon Railway station, left for a visit to his old home in Ohio today. While away Mr. Ellis will be married to Miss Retta Barns Kemp, of St. Louis, in that city on October 11.

Secretary Root will leave here this evening on his Mexican trip.

All is not smooth sailing at the State Department for Wu Ting-fang. U. S. Minister Rockhill has officially notified this government of the appointment of Wu, but no reply has been sent, indicating whether the former minister is acceptable to this country or not. Nor will such a message be sent, until President Roosevelt has been consulted on the subject. Strong influences have been brought to bear to prevent this government accepting the Chinese statesmen. The Department itself hesitates. It is believed, in receiving again a minister, whom, it considered asking to withdrow at a previous date.

VIRGINIA INSURANCE AGENTS.

The organized local fire insurance agents of Virginia will make another effort to induce the companies to allow them better compensation for their work. At present the fire insurance representatives of the State are allowed a flat rate of 15 per cent. They are contending for a contingent commission of 10 per cent. in addition to the rate now allowed.

After a two days' session in Richmond, during which much business of importance was transacted, the ninth annual convention of the Virginia Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents adjourned yesterday. The following officers were elected:

Coleman Wortham, of Richmond, president; B. F. Kirkpatrick, of Lynchburg, first vice president; W. B. McChesney, of Staunton, second vice president; Samuel T. Puliam, of Richmond, secretary and treasurer.

His face covered with blood, his nose bruised, Jay Gould, the 18-year-old son of George Gould, led the Freshmen class at Columbia University at New York to victory in the annual cane rush.

SENT TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT.

Judge A. G. Dayton, in the federal court in Wheeling, W. Va., on Monday, sentenced John Beymer, a striking telephone lineman, and his wife to 60 days in jail, for contempt of court. Some time ago the court granted a sweeping injunction against the strikers, and last week Judge Dayton made the injunction permanent. Two days later Beymer and his wife were arrested. Their offense consisted of calling non-union men "scabs," and hurling abusive epithets at them. In passing sentence Judge Dayton scored labor unions for attempting to interfere with the right of a man to work if he chooses. He said the strikers had a perfect right to quit work if they chose, but no right to prevent others from taking the positions they gave up. He regretted the necessity for sending Beymer and his wife to jail, but declared it was the only way to enforce respect for law and order.

The annual meeting of the American Locomotive Appliance Company was held in this city today for the election of officers, &c.

News of the Day.

Mr. Hearst has authorized the New York World, in an interview, to state that he is not a candidate for president on any ticket.

A student of the Dubuque, Iowa, High School, who was the victim of a "frat" initiation was put in a coffin and left for ten hours in a cellar of an unoccupied farm house.

The Countess Montignoso, it is reported in Vienna, is about to become a mother, and is anxious to marry the father of her expected child, Toselli, who is a music teacher.

Officials of the Long Island Railroad are looking for a small boy who warned the agent at the Little Neck station Monday night of a landslide on the line of the road near there and prevented a serious wreck.

News reached San Francisco today that two sailors, whose names were not given out, were drowned last evening during the drills on the cruiser St. Louis, anchored on the north side of the bay.

Peter Brooksby and William Neiss, the former of Rensselaer, N. Y., and respectively an engineer and fireman of the New York Central Railroad, were cut to pieces early today by an engine in the New York Central yards at 164th street, New York.

Oil interests in Pittsburg are discussing a significant gathering of independent oil operators of western Pennsylvania at the Duquene Club last night. It is reported the meeting was to fortify the independents against any move that may be taken by the Standard.

George W. Beavers, who was convicted of postal frauds and sentenced to two years confinement in the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., completed his term, with good time deducted, yesterday and was released at midnight.

In reply to Stuyvesant Fish's bid for proxies to oust the present management of the Illinois Central Railroad, President J. T. Harahan issued a statement last night. He denies Fish's charges, and says Fish was deposed as head of the company for borrowing $1,500,000 from the railroad on inadequate security.

After a most exciting day yesterday in which much disorder characterized the clash of factions in the great primary battle between Charles F. Murphy and Mayor McClellan, Murphy carried the day. The Tammany "boss" made a clean sweep, electing all of his district leaders with the exception of Featherston and Lantry, who were the only ones of the district leaders that opposed him who were successful.

At least four monster battleships, larger than any afloat or now under construction anywhere in the world, and five scout cruisers of the Chester type will be recommended to Congress by Secretary Metcalf, if he approves the plan that was outlined at the first meeting of the General Naval Board yesterday. The arguments advanced indicated a demand for a big naval program for the coming Congress and a new fleet in the Atlantic to succeed the one that is being sent to the Pacific.

After cutting the trolley wires, causing the stoppage of traffic, striking employes of the Westmoreland Street Railway Company in Latrobe, Pa., attacked a car in charge of Superintendent Schwartz early yesterday, and put the crew to flight. The strikers then smashed the car windows and destroyed the seats and furnishings. During the riotous demonstration a number of pistol shots are said to have been fired, but no one was injured. The line is now tied up.

For failure to deliver the mails upon schedule time the Pennsylvania Railroad has been fined for the first six months of the present year about $15,000. The fines are imposed by the Postoffice Department under authority of an act recently passed by Congress providing that when any mail-carring train is more than thirty minutes late, ten or more times in any one quarter, a fine shall be imposed amounting to 20 per cent. of the sum paid by the government for one day's mail transportation thereon.

The indications were yesterday that the radical element among the striking telegraphers in New York would make an effort in the meeting today to force the declaration of a general strike, to take in all the brokers and newspaper offices, irrespective of existing agreements. Daniel L. Russell said yesterday that the situation is critical. It is understood that Russell and S. J. Small are not in favor of such a strike, and that the passage of the resolution will be fought as it was last Sunday when it was tabled. They cling to the hope that in some way or other negotiations may be established to bring about a settlement.

Mayor Mahool, of Baltimore, yesterday reappointed all the heads of departments in the City Hall. The only change is that of George T. Ames, democrat, to succeed George F. Jones, republican, as superintendent of public buildings. All those reappointed are democrats who served under the late Mayor McLane and his republican successor, Mayor Timanus. Among those reappointed is City Engineer B. T. Fendall, who has most efficiently filled that position for a number of years. Former Governor Frank Brown was appointed city tax collector. He conducted the campaign that resulted in the election of Mayor Mahool, and he will now be a power in Baltimore city politics, which will enable him to also play a prominent part in State politics.

PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The Virginia Pharmaceutical Association in Richmond yesterday put itself on record as against the parcel post. The subject was embodied in the report of the president of the body, E. C. Hamner, of Lynchburg, and the paper was discussed at great length. The members say that the scheme is one that will tend to increase the business of the large department houses to the serious detriment of the dealers in the cities and towns of the state, to say nothing of the complete annihilation of the country stores.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, W. G. Williams, of Charlotte, C. H.; first vice president, Gordon Blair, of Richmond; second vice president, E. L. Brandes, of Richmond; secretary, C. B. Fleet, of Lynchburg.

The stream had become much swollen by the heavy rains of yesterday and the day before, and Thomas and his team were swept down the stream a considerable distance before he reached a place of safety.

Ernest Simmons, the young man who has been under arrest in Berryville, charged with having caused the death of Miss Mary Bushnell in an automobile accident in August last, was yesterday discharged by the grand jury. It was stated that the evidence against Simmons was insufficient to hold him. It was alleged that he threw a post across the road near Berryville, and that the automobile struck the post, throwing Miss Bushnell out and killing her.

WANT BARR TO REMAIN.

The board of directors of the Jamestown Exposition was in session for more than six hours yesterday afternoon and last night, endeavoring to put an end to the social war which has been under way at the exposition for the past month between President Tucker and Director General Barr, without accepting the resignation of the director general.

The action of Mr. Barr's friends in the meeting soon made it kdown that he would withdraw his resignation, if given full power in the management of all departments of the exposition, including the social. There were about seventy of the upward of 100 directors present. Those inclined to give Barr the complete powers which he desires had a majority estimated at from 9 to 12.

The matter was finally disposed of by the adoption of the following resolutions, offered by Joseph Bryan:

"Resolved, That a committee on ceremonies—Judge T. S. Garnett, J. W. McCarrick, S. Gordon Cumming, George A. Schmelz, C. Brooks Johnston, J. W. Priddy, Admiral P. F. Harrington, Brigadier-General Fred D. Grant—is appointed by the board of directors to take charge of all matters connected with official ceremonies and social functions of the Jamestown Exposition Company and the entertainment of distinguished guests and representatives of State and foreign governments, and will proceed with the work under the control and direction of the executive committee and board of directors until further orders, provided that all estimates of necessary expense to be incurred in this work are first approved by the director-general."

Another resolution was adopted asking Barr to reconsider his resignation. No one seems to be certain that he will. A number of petitions were also presented to the board asking that the resignation be not accepted. One of these was composed of concessionaries. Another was signed by 200 business men of Norfolk, and another by the State Commissioners' Association.

Vice President Alvah H. Martin presided over the meeting, in the absence of President Tucker.

ANOTHER DISCHARGE.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway has begun to cut expenses in the mechanical departments of the system, and yesterday afternoon every painter and coachbuilder in the coach department of the Portsmouth shops, with the exception of 16, were discharged. Instead of working 10 hours a day in the freight yard, beginning with yesterday, nine hours will constitute a day's work.

A number of the men discharged have been in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line for many years. None of the employes expected the discharge. They say there is considerable work in their line at the shops and with the small force retained it will be absolutely impossible to keep up the work.

It is understood that discharges will be made in the mechanical departments throughout the entire system, and it is said that the small force retained at the shops will not be increased until next spring.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Railroad Accident in France.

Nantes, France, Sept. 25.—Several Americans are reported badly hurt as the result of a collision on the main line of the Paris-Cherbourg railroad today.

The Cherbourg express from Paris crashed into a special train carrying trans-atlantic passengers just beyond Breval tunnel. The impact was terrific and the special was telescoped, fifteen persons being hurt, several, it is feared, fatally. A number of others were hurt in the express.

An American woman and her daughter were pinned down in the wreckage. It is not known how badly they are hurt and their names are not yet available. Wrecking crews and doctors have been hurried to the scene.

The special train carried the passengers who were to board the steamer Adriatic, which was to sail this afternoon. It left Paris at 8:50, ten minutes ahead of the regular express. Because of a slight accident to the injector of the locomotive, the train was stopped just outside of the tunnel to permit the engine man to make repairs. Through an oversight, it is asserted, a flag was not sent back, and the express, rounding a curve at a high rate of speed, smashed into the rear of the special, telescoping the last car.

Frightened women and children jumped from the wreckage and ran hysterically into the darkness of the tunnel.

As soon as possible the injured were brought here on a special train and taken to the local hospital.

Paris, Sept. 25.—At the offices of the White Star Line it is stated that they lack details of the wreck at Nantes, but they insist no Americans were injured in it. They insist that the rear car of the special was occupied entirely by French, and declare they believe all of their passengers are safe. Hence they discredit the report that comes from Nantes.

The officials say the train had 210 passengers.

Nantes, France, Sept. 25.—The American woman and her daughter injured in the wreck of the Cherbourg Express are Mrs. and Miss Shepard. Their initials, family connections and place of residence are as yet unknown, both being so seriously hurt that it has been impossible to question them.

Later figures from the wreck place the number of injured at twenty. All are expected to recover.

Justifying Unwritten Law.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—"We, the undersigned jurors in the case of Amaza O. Campbell, in consideration of the mitigating circumstances in connection with said case, do recommend that he be confined in the penitentiary not to exceed the minimum term prescribed by law—one year." This letter, which was attached to a manslaughter verdict, will today be made the basis of a petition for a new trial for the slayer of Dr. Benjamin F. Harris, whom he charged with wrecking his home. The jurors' action is unprecedented and is taken as a justification of the unwritten law plea, on which ground it was predicted the defense would fight its case. Delphine M. Delmas, who was in the city for two hours last night on his way to New York, was pleased with the verdict. "This will be splendid news for Harry Thaw," he said. Campbell, a wealthy lumberman of Antigo, Wis., shot Dr. Harris in the Stock Exchange building last December.

Floods in Spain.

Madrid, Sept. 25.—Eighty-eight persons have been drowned and the entire Malaga district is inundated as a result of torrential rains that have prevailed for 48 hours. The river Guadalmedina is out of its banks and all of the low lands traversed by it are covered with water to a depth of several feet.

The deaths reported are as follows: At Malaga, 29; at Velez Malaga 16; Colmenar 32; Rio Gordo 3; Bens Maragosa 8.

All lighting plants have been destroyed, and there is much suffering. The military are distributing bread to the refugees.

President Starts for Washington.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 25.—His summer vacation ended, President Roosevelt took the 10 a. m. train today for Washington. The two express cars containing the President's horses, carriages office paraphernalia and other baggage left Oyster Bay about an hour ahead of the presidential party. All the members of the executive's party who have been on duty at Sagamore Hill and the newspaper correspondents stationed at the summer capital since June 12, accompanied the President on the special out of Oyster Bay. The presidental party is scheduled to arrive in Washington 6 o'clock this evening.

Strikers to Resume Work.

Antwerp, Sept. 25.—The striking dock workers will resume work tomorrow after a struggle which has reduced many of their numbers with their families to the verge of starvation and caused more serious rioting in the shipping district than has been known in years. The United International Ship Owners say they have won a complete victory. The strike committee threatens to call another strike in fifteen days if wages are not increased, but the employers say this is a mere bluff to save appearances.

Infirmary Burning.

Toledo, O., Sept. 25.—It is reported here that the Augulis County Infirmary at Wapakoneta, is on fire and will be a total loss. A fight is being made to save surrounding buildings. It is believed all of the forty inmates have escaped.

Senator Borah's Trial.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 25.—If the jury that began United States Senator Borah's trial today, charged with complicity in the government land frauds, finds him guilty, it will wipe out at one stroke a lifetime of effort toward self-hewn success. For Borah announced today that conviction would make him resolve never to occupy his seat in the Senate. Borah was a farmer boy near Fairfield, Ill. He had to walk five miles to school. At sixteen he went to Kansas and at 10 began working his way through the University of Kansas. He ascended rung after rung until he reached the goal of his ambition—the United States Senate.

Investigating Standard Oil Company.

New York, Sept. 25.—Henry O. Folger, jr., supervisor of the Standard Oil Refineries and who, with C. N. Payne, owns, "for the Standards," the Corsicana Oil Company of Texas, were put on the gridiron today by Frank B. Kellogg, counsel for the government in the federal suit to dissolve the great Rockefeller combine. Folger has appeared in many of the Standard's districts with subsidiary companies and Kellogg has been anxious to get at him. The witness at first said he was connected only with the Standard of New York and the Union Pipe Line.

In reply to a hot shower of questions, Folger was forced to admit that he "met with" the managers of the various refineries of the subsidiary companies now and then. Later he admitted that he saw some of them once a month and at length Kellogg forced him into a corner and asked: "Don't you receive reports regularly of the operation of all the refineries at your office at 26 Broadway?"

After some lengthly explanations he finally answered yes.

"In other words, you always have before you statements of the operation of all the refineries?"

"Yes," said the witness.

Then Kellogg went into the Corsicana Refining Company, which operated in Texas for the Standard after the Waters-Pierce Oil Company had been ousted from the State.

Taft's World Tour.

Tokio, Sept. 25.—Figuring that Secretary Taft's world's tour is at least semi-diplomatic in its character, Japanese statesmen are hoping great things from his coming visit to this country. Speculation is rife concerning possible negotiations on emigration, naturalization and a hundred other questions. The Secretary's reception will be a very warm one, and it is believed that the result of the anticipated negotiations will be to remove the friction which has recently characterized relations between the United States and the Mikado's government.

London, Sept. 25.—With the Japanese counting confidently on the negotiation of a treaty between the Mikado and the United States as a result of the coming visit of Secretary of War Taft to Tokio, the Russians are equally confident that war involving America and Japan are inevitable and that the Secretary will close a Russo-American agreement while in St. Petersburg. The government is making arrangments to surround the Secretary on his journey through Siberia and European Russia, with attentions usually reserved for rulers of foreign countries.

To Found Scientific Institute.

Rome, Sept. 25.—As his answer to the accusation that his recent "anti-modernism" encyclical proves the Roman Church an enemy to scientific progress, the Pope will at once ask the Catholic world to aid in establishing a mighty institute to further all scientific thought and research compatible with religion. Cardinals Rampolla, Maffi and Merir, who made the report, outlining the plan for the institute, are to be made its protectors.

Fighting in Malay Archipelago.

The Hague, Sept. 25.—Terrible reprisals have been inflicted upon the tribesmen in Flores Island in the Malay Archipelago, by the Dutch punative expedition under command of Captain Christoffil, sent to punish those responsible for an assault on a Dutch colonist settlement. He came up with them near Wolowio and after several hours fighting the natives were utterly routed, leaving behind 14 dead and hundreds wounded, many of them women and children.

NEEDS OF THE CHURCH.

"What we want is more virility and less effeminency," said Bishop W. A. Candler, before the assembled Methodist ministers of Atlanta at the regular conference yesterday. "We've got to be more vigorous. We have a big work to perform, and we want to show that we mean business." Bishop Candler was talking of the laymen's missionary movement and the recent meeting at Knoxville, Tenn., and said he had noticed a tendency in the men to drop away from the church. "They are leaving things to the women," he continued. "This is not hard to account for. Pretty little curled-up speeches and curled-up words don't draw men. They drive men away. It's plain talk and hard words and business actions that attract the kind of people we are after. We need virility. The men must be fed with something meaty, not choked to death with adjectives. Seminary stuff won't do."

THE OLD FIRST CHURCH.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

To correct misapprehension caused by several local notices of the re-opening of Bethany M. P. Church and especially the notice in Monday's issue which stated "that congregation now has charge of the First Presbyterian Church," I would call attention to the fact that some years ago the First Presbyterian Church building was handed over to the trustees of the Second Presbyterian Church, and that congregation has since used and is still using it as a mission and has charge of it. When Bethany M. P. Church was seeking a temporary home, permission was granted them to use the building at such times as did not conflict with its use by the Second Presbyterian Church, they to make such repairs to the interior as they desired for their comfort and convenience and to contribute a small sum monthly to be applied to a new roof &c. which has been put on at the expense of the Second Presbyterian Church.

PRESIDENT FINLEY'S DENIAL.

President Finley, of the Southern Railway, yesterday denied absolutely that the stoppage of construction work was done in retaliation of adverse State legislation. Mr. Finley said:

"This company has not been governed in any case by any but sound business considerations, such as must govern a railway as well as every other business enterprise. Current railway income is insufficient to provide funds necessary for extensive improvements and betterments. These can only be provided for, now as in the past, by obtaining new capital. Present financial conditions and the present attitude of investors toward railway securities are such that it is impossible, for the moment, to sell railway securities on a basis that any business concern, managed in accordance with sound business principles, would be justified in accepting. It has, therefore, been necessary to postpone many important projects for improvements. Only those will be pushed to completion at this time on which work has progressed so far that the public and the railway can receive the benefit of their completion at an early date. Other projects have not been abandoned, but will be carried out just as soon as conditions are such that the necessary capital can be secured.

TAYLOR-HAMERSLEY WEDDING

The parsonage of St. Mary's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon when Miss Willie May Hamersley was united in marriage to Mr. James H. Taylor, of Washington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kelly in the presence of members of the families represented and invited guests. Miss Osceola Hamersley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Richard Taylor, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore white net over white taffeta, princess style, and carried bride roses, and her veil was held back by orange blossoms. The maid of honor was attired in light blue crepe de chine trimmed in baby Irish lace. She carried pink roses. The ceremony was performed in an impressive manner by Rev. Father Kelly, and after the newly-married couple had received the congratulations of the assembled party, they all repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hamersley, where a reception was held. The parlor and dining room had been beautifully decorated and the tables, which had been tastefully spread, were filled with inviting edibles which were greatly enjoyed by the company. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and suitable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor later left on a ten days' bridal trip to New York and Niagara Falls. They will reside in Washington after their return.

CITY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

The members of the city democratic committee elected at the recent primary election met last night at the Opera House cafe and reorganized with the election of Mr. Charles Bendheim as chairman and Mr. R. Theodore Cook as secretary. Both of these gentlemen have held the position of chairman and secretary for several years, and were chosen to succeed themselves. With the exception of Commonwealth's Attorney Samuel G. Brent, all the members of the body were present.

The committee determined upon active measures for bringing out a large vote for each of the democratic nominees at the Congressional and State election in November.

Other meetings of the committee will be held between now and the date of the election to perfect a system for recording the entire available democratic strength.

RIVER NOTES.

The brisk northwest winds which have prevailed today enabled sailing vessels bound down the river to make steamboat speed, but steamers on their way up have been behind schedule time. None of the latter had anything special to report save head winds.

The schooner Nellie White, loaded with lumber by Smoot & Co. for the lower river, sailed yesterday.

A gasoline barge, loaded with lumber by H. K. Field & Co., has left for Indian Head. The lumber is to be used in the erection of a Masonic Hall.

The schooner Ella, loaded with lumber by the same firm, has sailed for Wilkinson's wharf.

A government tugboat is reported ashore at Pope's creek.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN COUNTY.

A special election was held yesterday in the Arlington and Washington districts, in Alexandria county, to take the sense of the qualified voters upon the question of additional school levy, and the proposition was approved in both districts. The majority in Arlington district was 44, and in Washington district 24.

The additional levy insures to Arlington district the erection of a new school house on Fort Myer Heights, near the county court house, to cost about $10,000, and the probable commencement of another at Clarendon, between the county court house and Ballston. Washington district will have a new school house in the village of Cherrydale, to cost about $8,000.

COLORED MAN KILLED.

John Buckner, colored, fell from one of W. A. Smoot & Company's carts at the intersection of Union and Oronoco streets late yesterday afternoon and was almost instantly killed, one of the wheels passing over his head. The cart was loaded with sand, and the man's head was crushed by the weight. No one seems to have witnessed the accident, but the body was found within a few moments after its occurrence. Dr. S. B. Moore, coroner, viewed the remains and issued a certificate of accidental death. Buckner was between fifty and sixty years old, and lived at 312 Wolfe street. It is understood that his wife and seven children live near Bailey's cross roads.

INSPECTION OF COMPANY G.

The annual inspection of the Alexandria Light Infantry, Company G, of the Seventieth Virginia Regiment, was held last night in Armory Hall. A large number of spectators, including many ladies, were present. The inspection was conducted by Col. Jo Lane Stern, assistant inspector general of the State troops. The officers in command of the company were First Lieut. Windsor Demaine and Second Lieut. R. C. Talbott. There were present 44 men and the company passed a most successful inspection. Though Lieut. Demaine was in command, Capt. Murphy was present, but not in uniform.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Charles Nightingill, of this city, had a narrow escape from being killed near the station of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway in Washington late yesterday evening. He was endeavoring to board a moving train when he fell between the two cars. By prompt action of the crew the train was stopped before the wheels reached the prostrate man, and he escaped with a badly sprained ankle and some bruises.

Two bicyclists had narrow escapes from serious injury late yesterday evening on King street by collisions with wagons. One wheel was smashed.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH NOTES.

It can be stated upon undoubted authority that the Rev. Henry J. Cutler, rector of St. Mary's Church, who has, for a long time, been greatly afflicted, has gone to the excellent refuge for sick priests at the convent of St. Agnes, near Baltimore, for rest and proper medical attention, retaining, of course, the position as rector he has so long and so well filled, expecting to return soon and resume his duties. In his absence, the Rev. Leonard L. Kelly, his assistant, will be in charge, but as he has long been suffering from hay fever and unable to get away, it is understood that he will go to the mountains every week until relieved, returning on Saturdays to participate in the services. Meanwhile, the Rev. August Halbleib, a native of Richmond, who was ordained priest at the Cathedral in Baltimore a little less than a year ago, will fill his place. He is a very able, active and worthy young priest to whom the congregation has already become attached, and will be assisted, when necessary, by the Rev. Richard L. Carne, who officiates daily at St. Mary's Academy, at a very early hour, and is guiding him in his work by accompanying him to the places to which he is called. He has known him since his youth in Richmond and has a very high esteem for him.

It is understood that there will be two sermons, one at each mass, every Sunday, while the present conditions last, one by Father Kelly, the other by Father Halbleib.

The schools connected with St. Mary's Church, both at the Academy and the parish hall, are flourishing, the former having two hundred pupils, many from abroad, and the latter one hundred and fifty from the congregation alone.

PERSONAL

As heretofore stated, Miss Virginia Lee, daughter of the late Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, will be married at 6:30 o'clock this evening in Christ Church, to Lieut. John Carter Montgomery, U. S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fugett and Miss Virginia Fugett, of Washington, D. C., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stonnell, at their home near Mount Vernon.

Rev. C. E. Woodson, of Norfolk, is visiting friends in this city.

Miss Sallie Stuart, of Alexandria, president and secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary in Virginia, reaches Richmond today and will be the guest of Mrs. F. W. Boykin, of No. 419 East Franklin street, for a short time. Later she goes to the Jefferson, where she will be during the convention.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

CORPORATION COURT.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

Hattie Grinnell vs. Priscilla Gatewood et al.; decree confirming sale to Dr. C. E. Outcalt and providing for distribution of proceeds.

Mary E. Ryan vs. J. F. Ryan; decree removing case from stet docket and placing same on court docket.

Same vs. same; decree confirming sale to W. H. Peck.

Jeremiah J. Ryan was appointed committee for Timothy Ryan, jr.

ALLEGED THREATENING LANGUAGE.

E. A. Blake was arrested yesterday at the Hayfield farm in Fairfax county, charged with using threatening language towards A. J. Payne, recently appointed a justice of the peace of Mount Vernon district. The arrest was made by Constable Norman Dove. The accused was taken before Justice Triplett, who required him to give bond for his appearance next Saturday morning to answer the charge against him.

NO LIGHTS ON WHEELS.

Complaint is made that boys and men continue to ride bicycles on the streets of the city after dark without lights, as is contrary to law. A gentleman had a narrow escape from being knocked down by a reckless wheelman last night. The law imposes a fine of $5 upon bicyclists who appear on the streets at night with no lights on their wheels, and the police should enforce the ordinance before some person is injured.

A LIGHT IN DARKEST AFRICA.

Rev. J. E. Phipps, a colored missionary laboring on the Congo in Africa, will speak tonight at the Second Presbyterian Church. He will tell of the marvellous progress of the Gospel in that dark land. All are cordially invited. A free will offering for missions will be taken. The gallery will be reserved for the colored people.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

The regular monthly prayer meeting will be held at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow night at the Children's Home on Duke street.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Wilford Jones, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

John Lomax, colored, charged with stealing a bottle of ink from a stationer's store, was fined $5.

BENEFIT PAID.

The officers of Alexandria Council, Royal Arcanum, have paid to Mrs. O. F. Baggett the sum of $2,000, the amount of the benefit held in that order by her late husband.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 25.—After a show of strength in the first few minutes on which fractional advances were made in a number of stocks, the market weakened. Interests who have been buyers of stocks in the last few days, threw over their holdings, being willing to take moderate losses instead of running the risk of being tied up with stocks on a downward movement. This selling was most prominent in the Hill stocks, which declined about 2 points. A bear clique that has been waiting for a generally weak market in order to make a drive at Steel common, hammered that stock today and forced it below 38 in the expectation of stop-loss orders at that price.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the stockholders of the WASHINGTON HERB COMPANY will be held at the office of said company, No. 128 south Fairfax street, Alexandria, Virginia, at 3 o'clock p. m., on MONDAY, October 7, 1907.

M. M. FLANNERY, Secretary.

The funeral of Mrs. Rosie F. Bernhardt, who died in Washington last Saturday, took place from her late home in that city yesterday. The interment was in Glenwood Cemetery.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to William W. Boswell, of Arlington and Ada V. Javins, of Fairfax, and to Ernest A. Grim and Lula M. Butler, of Warren county.

The mild weather of yesterday was followed last night by a light rain and fresh northwesterly winds which caused a drop in the temperature. Cooler weather and brisk winds have prevailed today.

Mr. Harry Fleischmann, Exalted Ruler of Alexandria Lodge, No. 758, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has appointed Charles B. Marshall, C. C. Carlin, A. D. Montier, James W. Bales and James F. Peyton, a committee to make arrangements for the annual memorial services of the lodge, in December.

Albert Yerex, who is stopping at the Normandie Hotel in Washington reported to the police last night that he had been the victim of a pickpocket while waiting for a train at the Mount Vernon passenger station, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Twelfth street northwest. Lost, between 9:30 p. m., yesterday and noon today, a bilious attack, with nausea and sick headache. This loss was occasioned by finding at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed for billiousness, malaria and jaundice. 25c.

Atheist Falls Dead.

Bellefontaine, O., Sept. 25.—As the words that there was no God passed his lips, Amos Clark, 45 years old, and apparently in good health up to that moment, dropped dead yesterday. Clark, an atheist, was conversing with a group of neighbors gathered in his front yard. He was talking of his disbelief, arguring with members of his family. He called on God, whose existence he denied, to punish him if his view was wrong. Then he fell dead. Physicians called in from the nearby town decided that death was due to paralysis of the heart. Clark's family was awestruct by the lightning visitation of death.
